

M/s. Vijay Textiles Limited

CODE OF ETHICS FOR DIRECTORS, SENIOR EXECUTIVES AND FINANCIAL OFFICERS

I. Purpose of Code of Ethics

The purpose of this Code of Ethics (“Code”) is: to deter wrongdoing and promote the honest and ethical business conduct of our Directors, Senior Executive and Financial Officers (described below), including the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest between personal and professional relationships; to promote full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in periodic reports and documents filed with, or submitted to, The Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”) by Vijay Textiles Limited; to promote compliance with all applicable law, rules and regulations that apply to the Company and its officers; to provide for the prompt internal reporting to an appropriate person of violations of this Code; and to ensure accountability for adherence to this Code. References in this Code to the Company mean Vijay Textiles Limited or any of its direct or indirect subsidiaries. References to Compliance Officer and to the Chief Executive Officer mean the Compliance Officer and the Chief Executive Officer of Vijay Textiles Limited.

II. Introduction

This Code is applicable to the Company’s chief executive officer, chief financial officer, Company Secretary, chief operating officers, Compliance Officer, All professionals serving the roles of finance, tax, accounting, purchase, treasury, internal audit and investor relations (or any persons performing similar functions, together, the “Senior Executive and Financial Officers”). Further, this includes all disclosure committee members, all members of the senior management, the members of the audit committee, and members of the Board of Vijay Textiles Limited.

While we expect honest and ethical conduct in all aspects of our business from all of our employees, we expect the highest possible honest and ethical conduct from our Senior Executive and Financial Officers. As a Senior Executive or Financial Officer, you are an example for other employees and we expect you to foster a culture of transparency, integrity and honesty. Compliance with this Code is a condition to your employment and any violations of the Code may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of your employment.

Waivers or amendments, if any, of this Code may be made only by the Board and will be disclosed in accordance with applicable law and stock exchange rules. Officers should sign the acknowledgement form at the last page and return the same signed to HR department indicating that they received, read and understood, and agree to comply with the Code. Annually all officers, will be asked to sign an acknowledgement indicating their continued understanding of the Code. All such waivers and amendments of any provision of this code shall be promptly disclosed in Company’s website and in applicable filings, together with details about nature of amendment or waiver.

III. Conflicts of interest

A conflict of interest occurs when your private interests (financial or other) interfere, or even appear to interfere, in any way, with the interests of the Company as a whole. Conflicts of interest can also arise when you take actions or have interests, or a member of your family has interests, that may make it difficult for you to perform your duties to the Company objectively and effectively. When a potential conflict of interest arises, it is important that you act with great care to avoid even the appearance that your actions were not in the best interest of the Company.

Conflicts of interest may not always be clear-cut. If you have a question, you should consult with Compliance Officer. If you become aware of an actual, potential or apparent conflict of interest, you should bring it to the attention of the Compliance Officer (or, if it involves the Compliance Officer, the Chief Executive Officer).

Although we cannot list every conceivable conflict, following are some common examples that illustrate actual or apparent conflicts of interest that should be avoided:

A. Improper personal benefits

Conflicts of interest arise when an officer or a member of his or her family receives improper personal benefits from the Company or from other parties as a result of his or her position in the Company. You may not accept any benefits from the Company that have not been duly authorized and approved pursuant to Company policy and procedure, including any Company loans or guarantees of your personal obligations or those of a family member.

Neither you nor any person with whom you have a close personal relationship may accept gifts or anything of value (including entertainment) from a vendor or customer if that gift or other thing of value is, or could reasonably be considered to be, intended to influence your behavior toward that vendor or customer. Absent such circumstances, gifts may be accepted when permitted by applicable law if they are non-cash gifts of nominal value (Rs. 5,000/- or less, individually or in the aggregate) or customary and reasonable meals and entertainment at which the giver is present, such as an occasional business meal or sporting event. Travel or lodging may not be accepted unless previously approved by the Vijay Textiles Compliance Officer; the Chief Financial Officer; or the Chief Executive Officer.

If you are offered money or a gift not in conformity with the exceptions noted above, or if either arrives at your office or home, you must report it to your supervisor in writing with a copy to the Compliance Officer (or with respect to the Compliance officer, the Chief Executive Officer). Please refer to Company's Code of Business Conduct Gift Policy in this regard.

B. Financial interests in other businesses

You should avoid having an ownership interest in any other enterprise if that interest compromises or appears to compromise your loyalty to the Company. For example, you may not own an interest in a Company that competes with the Company or that does business with the Company (such as a supplier) unless you obtain the written approval of the Compliance Officer (or, with respect to the Compliance Officer, written approval of the Chief Executive Officer) before making any such investment. Any such approval would be given only in accordance with policies established by the Board and after review by the Board. However, it is not typically considered, and the Company does not consider it, a conflict of interest (and therefore prior written approval is not required) to make investments in competitors, customers or suppliers that are listed on a national or international securities exchange so long as the total value of the investment is less than one percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation and the amount of the investment is not so significant that it would affect your business judgment on behalf of the Company.

C. Business arrangements with the Company

Without the prior written approval of the Compliance Officer (or, with respect to the Compliance Officer, written approval of the Chief Executive Officer), you may not participate in a joint venture, partnership or other business arrangement with the Company. In general, such business arrangements are disfavored, and any such approval would be given only in accordance with policies established by the Board and after review by the Board.

D. Corporate opportunities

If you learn of a business or investment opportunity through the use of corporate property or information or your position at the Company, such as from a competitor or actual or potential supplier or business associate of the Company (including a principal, officer, director or employee of any of the above), you may not participate in the business or make the investment without the prior written approval of the Compliance Officer (or, with respect to the Compliance Officer, written approval of the Chief Executive Officer). Such an opportunity should be considered an investment opportunity for the Company in the first instance, and any such approval would be given only in accordance with policies established by the Board and after review by the Board.

E. Outside employment or activities with a competitor

Simultaneous employment with or serving as a consultant to or director of a competitor of the Company is strictly prohibited, as is any activity that is intended to or that you should reasonably expect to advance a competitor's interests at the expense of the Company's interests. You may not market products or services in competition with the Company's current or potential business activities. It is your responsibility to consult with the Chief Executive Officer to determine whether a planned activity will compete with any of the Company's business activities before you pursue the activity in question.

F. Outside employment with a customer or supplier

Without the prior written approval of the Compliance Officer (or, with respect to the Compliance Officer, written approval of the Chief Executive Officer), you may not be a supplier or be employed by, serve as a consultant to or director of or represent a customer or supplier to the Company, or anyone else who does, or seeks to do, business with the Company (other than as a retail customer). Without the prior written approval of the Compliance Officer (or, with respect to the Compliance Officer, written approval of the Chief Executive Officer), you may not accept money or benefits of any kind from a third party as compensation or payment for any advice or services that you may provide to a customer, supplier or anyone else in connection with its business with the Company.

G. Family members working in the industry

As a general rule, Officers should avoid conducting Company business with a relative, or with a business in which a relative is associated in any significant role. Relatives include spouse, siblings children, parents, grandparents, grandchildren, aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, step relationships, and in-laws or someone else with whom you have a familial relationship is a competitor or supplier of the Company or is employed by one, you must disclose the situation to the Compliance Officer (or, with respect to the Compliance Officer, to the Chief Executive Officer) so that the Company may assess the nature and extent of any concern and how it can be resolved. You must carefully guard against inadvertently disclosing Company confidential information and being involved in decisions on behalf of the Company that involve the other enterprise.

If you have any doubt as to whether or not conduct or a relationship would be considered an actual or apparent conflict of interest or could be expected to give rise to such a conflict, you should consult with the Compliance Officer.

IV. Accurate periodic reports and other public communications

As you are aware, full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in our periodic reports and other documents filed with, or submitted to, the SEBI and in our other public communications is required by SEBI Guidelines and is essential to our continued success. Please exercise the highest standard of care in preparing and reviewing such materials. We have established the following guidelines in order to ensure the quality of our periodic reports and other such documents.

- All Company accounting records, as well as reports produced from those records, must be kept and presented in accordance with the laws of each applicable jurisdiction.
- All records must fairly and accurately reflect the transactions or occurrences to which they relate.
- All records must fairly and accurately reflect in reasonable detail the Company's assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses.
- The Company's accounting records must not contain any false or intentionally misleading entries.
- No transaction may be intentionally misclassified as to accounts, departments or accounting periods or in any other manner.
- All transactions must be supported by accurate documentation in reasonable detail and recorded in the proper account and in the proper accounting period.
- No information may be concealed from the internal auditors or the independent auditors.
- Compliance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and the Company's system of internal accounting controls is required at all times.

V. Compliance with Laws and this Code

You are expected to comply with both the letter and spirit of all applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations and this Code, and to promptly report any suspected violations of applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations or this Code to the Compliance Officer, the Chief Executive Officer or the chairperson of the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. No one will be subject to retaliation because of a good faith report of a suspected violation. If you fail to comply with this Code or any applicable laws, rules or regulations, you may be subject to disciplinary measures, up to and including termination of your employment.
